

1. Go to <https://live.juliacon.org/discord/join>
2. Enter the order number in your registration confirmation email from Eventbrite and hit "Submit query":

eventbrite confirmation

We need your Eventbrite confirmation code to make sure that you are registered for the conference.

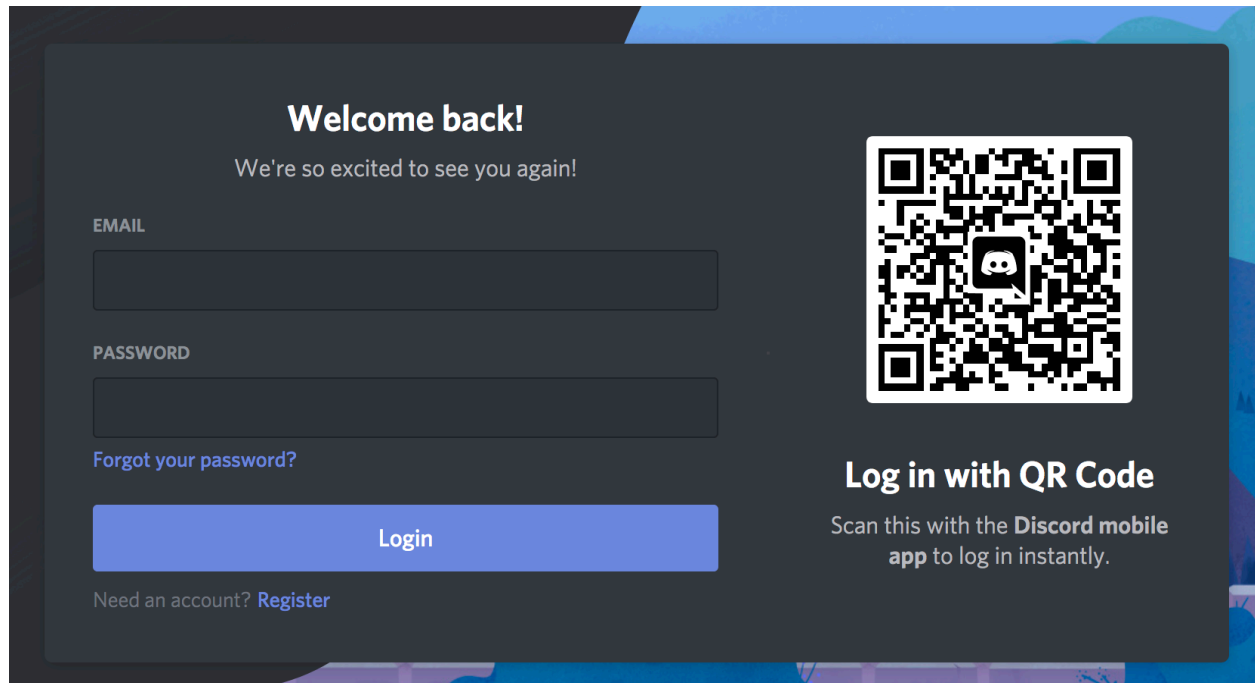

As a reminder, discussion in the JuliaCon 2020 Discord server must adhere to the JuliaCon Code of Conduct as well as the JuliaCon Code of Conduct . Please also observe these expectations for the server:

- Discussion in the conference track channels (#red, #green, and #purple) should pertain to the talk currently airing in the corresponding track.
- When engaged in voice channels, participants should be muted when not speaking or should use the push-to-talk feature.
- All Direct Messages (DMs) must be of a professional and respectful nature. If you wish to disable DMs from other attendees, you can do so as described in the Discord documentation.
- For speakers, please do not exceed your allocated question-and-answer time (i.e. do not continue to use the channel for Q&A after the following talk has begun). Feel free to move to direct messaging if you wish to ask a question after the end of a talk.

By joining the JuliaCon 2020 Discord server, you are acknowledging the rules above and are agreeing to follow them.

3. You should then be prompted to either log in or register.

The image shows the Discord login interface. It has a dark background with a blue and purple gradient at the top. The main heading is "Welcome back!" in white, followed by the subtext "We're so excited to see you again!". On the left, there are two input fields: "EMAIL" and "PASSWORD". Below the password field is a link "Forgot your password?". A blue "Login" button is positioned below the input fields. At the bottom left, there is a link "Need an account? Register". On the right side, there is a QR code with the Discord logo in the center. Below the QR code, the text "Log in with QR Code" is displayed, followed by "Scan this with the Discord mobile app to log in instantly."

Welcome back!
We're so excited to see you again!

4. If this is your first time, choosing to register will take you to the following screen:

The image shows the Discord account creation interface. It has a dark background with a blue and purple gradient at the top. The main heading is "Create an account" in white. Below the heading are four input fields: "EMAIL", "USERNAME" (with the text "test" entered), "PASSWORD" (with masked characters "....."), and "DATE OF BIRTH". The date of birth is split into three dropdown menus: "February", "1", and "2000". Below these fields is a blue "Continue" button. At the bottom left, there is a link "Already have an account?". At the very bottom, there is a small text line: "By registering, you agree to Discord's Terms of Service and Privacy Policy."

By registering, you agree to Discord's Terms of Service and Privacy Policy.

5. Next, you'll probably have to prove you're human by taking a test that a robot could never pass.
6. If you are in fact human, you should be taken to a screen like this:

7. Hitting “Authorize” should take you to a page that indicates success:

Success!

You have been successfully added to the JuliaCon 2020 Discord server. Please download the Discord native client or use the Discord web app (in browser) to engage with the conference community.

8. Now that you have an account, you can click on the link in your success message either to use the web app or the Discord native client (desktop app). The desktop app often has better performance for voice and video chat.
9. If you select the link in your success message for the web app, you will probably be prompted to log in again with the credentials you just created.

10. After you've properly logged in, you'll see the JuliaCon discord server:

Note that the orange bar at the top gives you a link to download the desktop app, so you won't need to remember how to find it!
